TO THE
M E R C H A N T S
O F
London, &c.

S I R S,

THE Author of the following Pages finds himself oblig'd to Dedicate them to you Gentlemen, knowing none more proper to Address to for Patronage, nor more justly to Recognize than you, who did so generously Encourage a former Work of the Author.

The long War, we have had, has (surprisingly as it were) Year after Year added Duties upon Duties (which are like to continue for some considerable time) which has caused Difficulties in the Computations, the design of these ensuing Lines is only to Elucidate matters so, as that Cæsar may have his Due, as well as Merchants understand their Right, with less Trouble and Expence of time, by help of this Compendium, wherein at a first View they'll find the Neat Duties and Draw-back of all Drugs, from the place of Growth exactly calculated for an Uniry, demonstrated from the Ratio of the Rate, viz. $\frac{1}{2} + \frac{1}{40} + \frac{1}{4} =$ any Sum of Money, or any Rate, any Quantity of Goods the Neat Customs shall amount unto; as suppose I were to enter 900 pounds of Borax refined: the Rate is 13 s. and 4 d. which $\times$ by 900 = 600 l. the $\frac{1}{3}$ 200 l.

The Dedication.

$$\begin{array}{r} + \frac{1}{40} \quad 5 \\ + \frac{1}{4} \quad 1 \ 5 \\ \hline \end{array}$$

The Neat Customs = l. 206 5

Now the Neat Customs of one pound of Borax is 4 s. and 7 d. which multiplied by 900 will be just l. 206 s. 5.

Many Disputes have happen'd concerning Dying Goods, which at the End of the Book you'll find the Particulars there Enumerated; and also of Unrated Drugs, as by the Act of the 3. and 4. of Queen Anne.

Gentlemen, I conclude with referring you to the Perusal of the subsequent Computations at your Pleasure, submitting them to your Censure as you experience them in Practice, only Praying your favourable Acceptation of them, as they were with much Zeal and much Industry Calculated for your Service,

By your Humble Servant,

Tho. Langham.

From my House at Camkerwell, Sept. 12. 1712.
